Every location is unique and customers needs will differ. While we can provide detailed descriptions of the characteristics of our mats and convertible flooring and where they are commonly placed, we do not recommend mats for particular purposes, nor do we recommend specific location placements. Our customers know their businesses and the people visiting their locations the best and are in a better position to select the mats and their specific location placements.

Every business location is unique and our customers' needs will differ based on the specific work environment and hazards. The information provided in this brochure should not be used as a substitute for reviewing OSHA, ANSI or other applicable regulations/standards, performing official safety training, or conducting on-site safety analysis. It is the customer's responsibility to determine what first aid supplies are adequate and where they should be located. ANSI Class A and B First Aid Kits contain products that are designed to cover most common workplace injuries.
